

TRUE NORTHERNER

Published Every Wednesday.

PAW PAW, MICH., NOV. 13, 1889.

The democrats seem to be more surprised over the result of the election in Iowa than do the republicans.

A MARBLE bust of Oliver P. Morton, Indiana's war Governor, was unveiled at Indianapolis on the 5th inst., with ceremonies conducted by the Grand Army of the Republic. The occasion was the twelfth anniversary of the funeral of the statesman.

The recent decision by the Supreme Court of N. Y. which declares the North River Sugar company an unlawful combination, is seriously agitating the Havemeyer trust, and that great monopoly is already taking steps to incorporate under the more lax laws of New Jersey.

WELLINGTON R. BURT, who has been in the democratic party now nearly two years, appears to be more hilarious over the result of the recent elections than do any of the old veterans of that organization. By the way, the "poor man's friend" has just made a sale of 100,000,000 feet of lumber, and that circumstance may have something to do with his present happy state of mind.

It is said that Ex-Governor Austin Blair is preparing a book to be published under the title of "The Recollections of a War Governor." Governor Blair is one of the three surviving "War Governors"—Kirkwood, of Iowa, and Curtin, of Pennsylvania, completing the trio—and there can be no doubt that such a book would find ready sale among his hosts of friends and admirers not only in Michigan but throughout the entire North.

THE death of Representative O. S. Smith, of Owosso, which occurred on Sunday last, makes the eighth vacancy in the present legislature. Four members have died viz: Senators Ranney, of Kalamazoo; McCormick, of Allegan; Tyler, of Bay, and Representative Smith. Senator Griffey resigned to become postmaster at Negaunee, Representative Hoaglin resigned to become postmaster at Albion, Representative Slosson resigned to become assistant to Collector of Internal Revenue Steketee, and Representative Dyer has removed from the state.

GOV. FORAKER had incurred the displeasure of the saloon keepers of Ohio by the manly stand he had taken regarding the enforcement of the Sunday closing law, and this, in conjunction with the hue and cry raised against a third term, conspired to accomplish his defeat at the election of last week. Thurman, the antiquated bourbon statesman of bandana fame, thinking to be facious, telegraphed to Grover Cleveland that Foraker had surrendered all the flags in Ohio. We think this will be found, to the sorrow of democrats, to be a mistake, for while the brave young governor may be slightly wounded he has not relinquished the flags, and when the smoke of battle has cleared away it will be seen that he is still waving them—the flags that symbolize loyalty to country, the purity and sanctity of our homes and an uncompromising hostility to the saloon interests, he will still bear aloft and defend and maintain with the same vigor and enthusiasm which has ever been characteristic of him.

Free Trade Means Hard Times.

It goes without dispute that the people of the United States—farmers, mechanics, laborers, and other workers—are vastly better off than those in similar occupations in other lands, and consequently are the best customers in the world. This is why they are so ceaselessly importuned to divide their trade with foreigners who are unable to elsewhere find buyers for all they wish to sell, and to aid them in getting the desired hold upon our trade is the aim of free traders now working under the guise of "tariff reform."

There would be very few workers for free trade if it was not expected thereby to increase the sale of foreign products in this country; hence the lively interest of foreign manufacturers, and the importers and distributors of foreign products. Before consenting to let them have their way voters will do well to carefully count the cost of such a concession. In the first place, we have no more work than will keep our own people occupied after allowing them time for necessary recreation. Increased use of goods and wares made in other countries will necessarily diminish purchases of similar articles made in this country, and to that extent deprive some of our people of their present employment. No new business seems likely to open to engage those thus crowded out of enterprises now established, leaving out of the account the other thousands crowding for employment as the result of our steadily augmenting population, as legislation operating to break down existing enterprises will tend to discourage attempts at establishing new ones.

The few lines of domestic business not killed outright under a policy of free foreign trade could not long remain profitable to those now controlling them. They would soon become so crowded that neither proprietors nor employees could get from them more than a scanty living. As the margin of profit for the one is narrowed, the tenure of employment for the other becomes more uncertain; and when the free trader's millennium is ushered in it will find few in condition to share in its promised blessings. To the mass of men, to be out of work is to be out of money—a condition in which it makes but little difference how cheap may be the prices of articles beyond their reach. Of all men these should be the last to aid in fastening upon the country a policy dictated by foreigners who seek to impair its existing prosperity, by taking from the pockets of the working people a portion of the wages they now receive, to pay for competing labor performed across the sea.—American Protective Tariff League.

GOOD NEWS. We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. True croup never appears without a warning. The first symptom is hoarseness, then the child appears to have taken a cold or a cold may have accompanied the hoarseness from the start. After that a peculiar rough cough is developed, which is followed by the child first becomes hoarse; a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy would prevent the attack. Even after the rough cough has appeared, the disease may be prevented by using this remedy as directed. The only safe way is to keep a 50 cent bottle of the Remedy in the house for use whenever symptoms of the disease appear. For sale by all druggists. [nov.]

FOR SORE THROAT. Saturate a flannel bandage with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the throat. It will cure any ordinary case in one night's time. For sale by all druggists. [nov.]

Glendale.

J. W. Tuxbury has sold his cooper shop to J. Myers and R. Vickers, Jr.

Mrs. Hollister has a sister from the northern part of the state visiting her.

L. A. Rogers has returned from his northern trip and reports a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harriett have traded their property here for property in Bloomingdale, with a Mr. Boulch.

The fall term of school closed here on the 8th. The winter term will begin in two weeks with the same teacher, Allie Auton.

Opinions of the Trade—South.

"I find Chamberlain's medicines very excellent, particularly Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.—B. E. ETHERIDGE, Hallettsville, Texas.

I have tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with great success.—R. TANSERET, Waveland, Miss.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can not be beat.—W. L. DAVIS, Liberty Hill, La.

I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family, and consider it the best I have ever tried.—W. J. FLOWERS, Doraville, Ga. 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists. [nov.]

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President sets apart Nov. 28th for National Observance.

A highly favored people, mindful of their dependence on the bounty of Divine Providence, should seek fitting occasion to testify gratitude and ascribe praise to Him who is the author of their many blessings. It behooves us then to look back with thankful hearts over the past year and bless God for His infinite mercy in vouchsafing to our land enduring peace, to our people freedom from pestilence and famine, to our husbandmen abundant harvests and to them that labor a recompense of their toil.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, do earnestly recommend that Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of the present month of November, be set apart as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and that the people of our country, ceasing from the cares and labors of their working day, shall assemble in their respective places of worship and give thanks to God, who has prospered us on our way and made our paths the paths of peace; beseeching Him to bless the day to our present and future good, making it truly one of thanksgiving for each reunited home circle for the nation at large.

In witness thereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this first day of November, in the year of our Lord 1889, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and fourteenth.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.
By the President:
JAMES G. BLAINE, Sec'y of State.

We had never fully comprehended what was meant by a "Family Magazine," until we had given the fine Christmas number of Demorest's Family Magazine a thorough examination. Of all others, this Magazine is certainly best entitled to use the word "Family," in its title,—for every member is considered in its make-up. Its beautifully illustrated articles are equal to any in the high-class literary magazines. Especially noticeable in the December number is one about "Uncle Sam's Money," giving a description of how our coin is made, the illustrations starting with a view of the Mint, and going through every process until the coin is put into circulation. The "Day Nurseries" takes us amongst the worthy poor, and shows us what can be done for their little ones. Every father and mother will appreciate this comprehensively and finely illustrated article. The other illustrated articles and stories are too numerous to mention, as can be appreciated when we say that the December number contains over two hundred illustrations, and every member of the family is thought of. But though our space is limited, we must mention the beautiful oil picture, "Christmas Morning," which is indeed worthy of a frame. We would advise everybody to at least see this Family Magazine before making their choice for next year. They claim a dozen magazines combined in one, for only $2.00 per year, and certainly the claim is a just one. Published by W. JENNINGS DOREST, 15 East 14th St., New York.

Latest news from New Mexico is to the effect that a snow storm, almost unprecedented in fury, has been raging for the past ten days in that territory. Unless it soon comes to an end, it is said, next summer will show a country covered with dead bodies of animals of thickly as was the old Santa Fe trail in the '60s. Five cowboys are known to be frozen to death, as are also a number of Mexican sheep-herders. It is estimated that 20,000 sheep and many thousands of cattle have already perished.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Bartram & Millington's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.
